Company X's United Way Campaign A Success!

Town, NH – After weeks of planning and a two week period for employees to pledge donations through payroll deduction, Company X's United Way campaign is a success raising $X for United Way of the Greater Seacoast and increasing employee participation by X percent.

United Way campaigns at Company X are a fun and easy way for employees to give back to their community. As part of the two weeks, campaign managers Employee Y and Employee Z held an ice cream social and conducted a raffle for every employee who gave. Employee Q took away the raffle grand prize of a flat screen TV.

"Giving back to our community is a part of running a strong business," said CEO A. "And we truly believe in United Way's philosophy getting people to work together in order to yield the greatest results for all."

Campaign Manager, Employee Y, said, "It feels good to be 'living united' and helping others support improving education, income and health in our community."

Company X would like to thank Store B, Store C and Store D for their generous donations of raffle items in support of Company X's United Way campaign.
